

Daughters; Day of Reflection Retreat for Women

Daughters Women's Day of Reflection

We've heard the stories of the women of scripture...but can we relate to them? What about Rebecca, Sarah, or Esther is relevant to life as a woman in modern culture? Women will find out...and find out a bit about themselves and the sisters around them, in this Women's Day of Reflection. Packed with prayer, stories, laughter, small-group interaction and music, this retreat - based on the best-selling "Daughters of God" recording (Oregon Catholic Press) - allows women the opportunity to see what makes them unique and yet connected to one another, through reflection on the women of scripture. Women will have the chance to share and listen, and to minister to and speak to one another in the way only women can.

This day includes morning coffee, prayer time, two hours of study (on four women of the Old Testament), lunch, two more hours of study (on four women of the New Testament) and closing prayer; a six hour retreat. Followed in the evening by a Sarah Hart concert for the parish and community.

"I cannot begin to say how wonderful of an experience our weekend was with Sarah! She wove together such beautiful songs and stories about the women of scripture, and with professionalism and enthusiasm. I heard comments from so many women about how they made a personal connection with Sarah. Sarah is amazingly gifted and serves Jesus with great joy, which is apparent in her music and stories. She was truly such a pleasure to work with. We can't wait to have her back!" - Kellie Sheets, Music Coordinator, St. Aloysius Parish, Hickory, NC

"A more than praise-worthy note for Sarah Hart's Women's Day of Reflection! What a delightful day...it was simply marvelous to listen to Sarah's insights, music and storytelling. The women loved the interaction and Sarah's welcoming presence. We shared stories, coffee, lunch and laughter! The day passed too quickly...we highly recommend Sarah and this wonderful day for any parish seeking a spirit-filled retreat for their women." - Susan Bellotti, Pastoral Associate, St. Paul Church, Westerville, OH

The positive response to Sarah's visit was overwhelming. Evaluations from women participating in the retreat were unanimous in their praise of Sarah's message and delivery. Her use of scripture and personal stories related to women of all ages and Sarah's outgoing, warm personality coupled with her deep faith connected with all who attended. Many remarked that the five hour retreat was too short! Sarah's concert performance was as energizing as her retreat. Her ability to engage everyone in the audience - from the children to the pastor - made for a memorable evening for St. Andrew Parish and all who attended. We especially appreciated Sarah's flexibility and positive attitude in bringing this event to our community. It was truly a joy to work with someone who's faith pours forth not only song but in her every interaction with others. We look forward to welcoming Sarah Hart back next year! - Dovile Krempasky, Music Director & Chair, St. Andrew's Parish, Milford, OH

This day gives women an opportunity not just to hear the stories of these wonderful women of biblical history, but also to see how their own lives are directly connected. It is an exciting and refreshing day! We hope you will consider bringing this uplifting experience to your church community.
